(b) if so, the details of the recommendations and Government's decision and response thereto?

THE MINISTER OF URBAN DEVELOPMENT (SHRI JAGMOHAN): (a) Yes, Sir.

(b) The Committee constituted by the Hon'ble Supreme Court on Solid Waste Management in Class I cities has recommended the constitution of a Technology Mission under the Ministry of Urban Development for a period of 5 years to monitor the performance of various local bodies, provide guidance about various technologies for processing and disposal of waste, give technical and financial assistance by channelising funds from various Government sources as well as financial institutions, develop material for awareness programmes, identify training needs, bench-mark performance indicators, give continued and focused attention to the reform of solid waste management practice nation-wide.

The Government had considered this recommendation in consultation with the concerned Ministries and Planning Commission. It was decided that it would not be possible to provide any additional resources for the setting up of such a Mission. In principle, Government of India's intervention in municipal affairs is rather limited as solid waste management is the responsibility of the State Governments. However, keeping in view the spirit of the recommendation of the Committee, a Technology Advisory Group was constituted on 18.8.99 under the chairmanship of Adviser, Central Public Health & Environmental Engineering Organisation and consisting of representatives from some of the State Governments, Municipal Corporations and concerned Ministries/ Departments to look into certain specific aspects of solid waste management, viz., appropriate technology, financial resources, human resource development, private sector participation and public awareness.

THE MINISTER OF URBAN DEVELOPMENT (SHRI JAGMOHAN): (a) and (b) No, Sir.
